Vacancies: Join the Team at Cotswold Seeds

We currently have two exciting opportunities to join our small and friendly team here at Cotswold Seeds.
We are looking for a Sales Administrator to join our sales team responsible for being on the front line for sales calls and providing customer service.

We are also looking for a Technical Sales Advisor to join the team. In the role the successful candidate will begin by taking and processing customer orders and associated admin tasks. You will be provided with training in this progressive role to eventually offer technical advice to our valued customers.

If you are interested in either of these opportunities then please contact Donna Smith - donna@cotswoldseeds.com to request further details and to receive a full job description.
