
Case Study: Wildflowers with Emmerich von Maltzahn

{video1}

Here Emmerich von Maltzahn from Oxfordshire talks about establishing a wildflower meadow on one of his fields. This three acre site, which was once arable land has taken over a year to prepare the ground for the wildflower seed, but all of the hard work has paid off with a beautiful wildflower meadow that will progress and improve year on year.

Date Posted: 30th March 2017