
Autumn grass seed sowing begins

August is one of the most popular months for sowing grass seed. With the arable harvest underway many farmers make the most of available soil moisture by planting forage leys. Grass and clover seed germination is very fast at this time of year and there are reports of seedling emergence in just a few days. Proving every cloud has a silver lining.

Date Posted: 31st July 2012