Getting Ready for Grassland & Muck 2017

We're delighted and excited to announce that Cotswold Seeds will be taking in part in the Grassland & Muck Event next year. The leading event for grass, forage and muck, it takes place on 24 and 25 May at Stoneleigh Park in Warwickshire, where we'll be showcasing seed mixtures for demonstrations and discussions. They have now been drilled on our plot on the 190 acre site at Stoneleigh, in good time for the event. Apparently there was over inch of rain on Saturday in Warwickshire so the seed went into plenty of moisture and was flat rolled after sowing, so should be through soon. We're told that Grassland & Muck 2017 is set to be bigger and better than ever, so in these first fews days of autumn we're already looking forward to spring.
