

Species of the Week: Milvus Red Clover

{video1}

Species of the Week: Milvus Red Clover has very good persistence. The Swiss plant breeders have used the Matenkee or mountain type Red Clover as a parent and have bred a variety which has been proved to last a full four years in the UK, ensuring it produces high quality forage for a number of years.

Date Posted: 3rd June 2020