
Legume Legacy Consortium Meeting

This year's in-person LegumeLegacy consortium meeting was held in Aarhus, Denmark.

PhD researchers underwent a week of training and presented their multi-species research and results, so far, in the beautiful city of Aarhus and nearby on the Aarhus University Moesgaard campus.

This summer Cotswold Seeds and FarmED will be hosting two researchers from the LegumeLegacy project, as well as a satellite day to FarmED for the whole consortium in September.

Legume Legacy is all about optimising multiple benefits of grass, legume and herb mixtures in crop rotations.
