

---

Pollinator Walk at Cotswold Honeydale Farm

Join us at Honeydale Farm this Saturday 15th August for a Pollinator Walk organised by The Wychwood Project.

We'll be looking at the roles of pollinators, their habitats, why these have declined and how we can conserve them. Honeydale Farm's fields of flowers and grasses encourage bees and other pollinators so there will be a walk and talks, with a presentation by Ian Wilkinson of Honeydale Farm, a beekeeping demonstration by Paul Totterdell, and tour led by Ian and Sam Lane.

These will be followed by a lunchtime BBQ with local grass fed beef burgers from Ian and Cathy Boyd's Whittington Lodge Farm near Andoversford. The event starts at 11am. Tickets are £5 per head - book through:

<http://www.wychwoodproject.org/cms/node/21>

Under 14s are free and dogs welcome.

Honeydale Farm, Station Road, Shipton-under-Wychwood, OX7 6BJ

* The Wychwood Project uses the focus of the Royal hunting Forest of Wychwood in Oxfordshire to encourage local people to understand, conserve and restore its rich mosaic of landscapes and wildlife habitats.

---

Date Posted: 11th August 2015